

Stay Up Late

Art competition for CD coming out in 2012
Are you an artist with a learning disability?

We're releasing a CD of musicians with learning disabilities from around the world

This is a competition to find an artist who can draw or paint a picture for us

The picture needs to be of what you think our imaginary music festival would look like

We need something that looks like the cartoon maps you get at Zoos and music festivals

This picture will be used on the internet and in printed leaflets

The picture can be in colour or black and white

We need your entries to be on A3 sized paper

A3

The winning picture will be the one that the judges think shows the mood of a world music festival.

And that will work best on our website.

Please note that this project is inspired by the Olympics but we are NOT allowed to have ANYTHING in the picture that shows Olympic rings, logos or dates.

This is very important as sadly we won't be able to use your picture.

Closing date

31st Jan 2012
